

Devin Rodriguez-Perez is a native Texan, a veteran of the United States Air Force, and a dedicated educator who has been making a positive impact in the field since 2014. With a passion for teaching and commitment to diversity, Devin obtained a degree in Special Education from Huston-Tillotson University. Devin's journey in education began in Special Education, which provided a strong foundation for understanding and meeting the unique needs of students with diverse abilities. This degree equipped Devin with the knowledge and skills necessary to create inclusive and engaging learning environments where every student can thrive.

Throughout her education journey, Devin taught various grades (1st-5th), and programs, including Preschool Program for Children with Disabilities (PPCD). Devin holds certifications in Special Education EC-12, Generalist EC-12, and English as a Second Language. After leaving the classroom, she took on roles such as instructional coach, reading specialist, testing coordinator, dyslexia designee, and technology design coach.

Devin's dedication to students and education has been recognized through numerous awards, including being a three-time Teacher of the Year, Houston Area Alliance of Black School Educators (HAASBE) Teacher of the Year, and Huston-Tillotson University Student Teacher of the Year.

She has served on the Educator Preparation Program at Huston-Tillotson University and has been a spokesperson at the Consortium of State Organization for Texas Teacher Education.

Devin also holds a Bachelor's degree in Biblical Studies from Destiny University and an Associate in Applied Science degree in Logistics from CC Air Force. This diverse educational background allows Devin to bring a well-rounded perspective to the classroom, infusing real-world experiences and problem-solving skills into the learning process. With an unwavering passion for education and a genuine love for students, Devin continues to make a lasting impact as an inspiring educator.

Outside of teaching, Devin enjoys spending time with family and friends, exploring new places, and engaging in hobbies that fuel her creativity. Dance is one of her passions, she currently serves as the Assistant Director of the award-winning Stacy J. & Unified Praise Dance Company.
